Welcome, families! · ¡Bienvenidas, familias!

Dear parents and caregivers,

This workbook gives your fifth grader the same kinds of reading and writing practice used at school: two passages with numbered paragraphs, questions in many formats (choose an answer, two-part questions, retelling, editing and two kinds of writing), an advanced word-work section, a unit glossary, and a full answer key for parents. The passages are in English, just like at school, with Spanish translations and every instruction in English and Spanish.

Este cuaderno ofrece a su niño o niña de quinto grado la misma clase de práctica de lectura y escritura que se usa en la escuela: dos lecturas con párrafos numerados, preguntas en muchos formatos (selección, preguntas de dos partes, recontado, edición y dos tipos de escritura), una sección avanzada de trabajo de palabras, un glosario de la unidad y las respuestas completas para los padres.

FREE SAMPLE · MUESTRA GRATIS — The full workbook has both passages with every question format, word work (Greek and Latin roots, prefixes and suffixes, figurative language, syllables and academic words), editing, opinion and informative writing, the glossary, progress stars and the parents' answer key.

El cuaderno completo trae las dos lecturas con todos los formatos, el trabajo de palabras (raíces griegas y latinas, prefijos y sufijos, lenguaje figurado, sílabas y palabras académicas), la edición, la escritura de opinión e informativa, el glosario, las estrellas de progreso y las respuestas para los padres.

A · Story 1: The Weather Station at Willow Creek

1. Behind Willow Creek School, the friends started a weather club in early spring. Milo the manatee measured the rain in a clear gauge, Gilda the heron watched the clouds and wind, Lola the turtle wrote every number in a blue notebook, and the little duckling carried the pencils and the thermometer in a small wagon.
2. Their goal was to present a full month of weather data at the school science fair. They built a small station beside the creek with a rain gauge, a thermometer, and a wind vane that spun above the fence.
